Only a few persons knew of the existence of a fantastic scientific project, hidden deep underground in a trackless U. S. desert area. Its purpose: to solve the problems of time travel, so people could be sent into the past or future!

But a Senate committee did know this much: the project was costing the Government billions of dollars. Senator Clark demanded results now — or no more appropriations!

Dr. Anthony Newman, a young scientist, risked his life to go through the "Time Tunnel" into the past ... and, incidentally, to try to prevent a historic disaster ...
